

WILL NEVER STAND FOR SENATE BILL

Champ Clark Speaks Mind About Postal Savings Bank Measure.

GREAT STRUGGLE COMING

Republicans at Loggerheads Over This Pet Scheme of Administration.

Washington, April 23.—In view of Republican division and dissension on the subject of postal savings banks legislation, the attitude of the Democratic minority of the House on the subject has become of interest. Representative Champ Clark, leader of the minority, was asked today what the Democratic position would be.

"We have not canvassed the situation thoroughly yet," said Mr. Clark, "but there is one thing certain—the Democrats of the House will never stand for the Senate postal savings bank bill. It looks also as though the Republicans were not going to stand for it either."

"Postal savings banks were favored in the Democratic national platform, but only in the event that the guarantee of bank deposits by the government was found impossible to accomplish."

"When we find out what sort of a bill the Republicans on this side are going to bring in, we shall then be able to determine what our attitude will be regarding it."

"It is one of the most important pieces of legislation in Congress, and it will have to be given very thorough consideration."

From the statements of Mr. Clark and others it is surmised that the Democrats are likely to offer the proposition of government guarantee of bank deposits as a substitute for the Republican savings bank bill, and failing to get favorable action on that, will attempt to amend the bill in accordance with their ideas. One of the big fights of the session is expected on this legislation when it is finally presented in concrete shape for action.

CHANTECLER WAISTCOATS AND TIES NOW FOR MEN

"Cockadoodledoo" Effects Are to Be Worked Out Also in Scarflets.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] London, April 23.—Women are not to have all the Chantecler fashions to themselves, for men will also be able to "cockadoodledoo" about articles of apparel in the Rostand vein.

Mauve, browns, greens, purple, variegated heliotropes and rose colors are the shades elected, and delicacy of tint makes the ties very attractive.

The "cockadoodledoo" is enshrined in needlework, and the correct way to wear the ties is so that the rooster is situated just below the knot at precisely the spot where it has lately become the fashion to wear the scarf-pin.

Practically in all samples the cock is a somewhat highly colored bird—scarlet comb, yellow legs and wings, green breast and tail. He is saved from gaucherie by being small.

According to outfitters, this kind of "needlework poultry" is going to be immensely popular at the seaside this year. The ties are selling in enormous quantities.

Waistcoats figured in the Chantecler style are to be the next male fashion freak.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Kellher Held for Aiding in Embezzlement of Funds.

Boston, Mass., April 23.—William J. Kellher, a well-known sporting man, pleaded not guilty to a charge of aiding and abetting the misappropriation of the funds of the insolvent National City Bank of Cambridge, before United States Commissioner Hayes to-day, and was held for further hearing in $2,500, which he failed to furnish. Ever since the closing of the bank and the subsequent arrest of Bookkeeper George W. Coleman for misappropriation of a quarter of a million dollars of the bank's funds, the government authorities have declared that Coleman lost large sums of money at faro in New York. Kellher was frequently mentioned as being a friend of Coleman, and it is stated that Coleman confessed that the money was lost through him.

HEALTH OFFICERS WAR ON HOOKWORM

Determined Fight Will Be Made to Drive Disease From Virginia.

STARTLING CONDITIONS

One Whole County Affected. Retards Advance of Entire State.

If the plans of the State Health Department are carried out, Virginia will lead in the fight against hookworm, the disease, which in the opinion of modern men of science, is doing more to hinder the South's industrial, mental and physical progress than any other one cause. The department is rapidly perfecting its organization for the campaign.

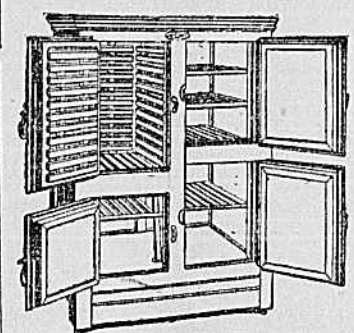

Although state agents as to the prevalence of hookworm in all of the Southern States have been printed from time to time, it is only when the facts are marshaled and presented, as it were, in one language, that the enormity of the proposition appears. In every one of the forty-five counties in Virginia where official investigation has been made, the presence of the disease has been clearly indicated. In one spot in Southside Virginia, several hundred cases were discovered within an area of two or three miles.

Worse yet, in certain sections of Tidewater, it was found that the disease was practically universal—that is, nearly everybody in well defined areas is affected.

Hookworm appears to be an affection which prevails mostly in warm climates, and from investigations made it is evident that it exists in all the Southern States. But science may show that it is in every State in the Union. Virginia is by no means alone, yet in all probability, unless some of the others do wonders, she will be the first to free herself of the incubus of this infection. The child of birth and of squalor, retarding energy and mental and physical strength, it should, in the opinion of the Health Department, have no place in a State which has set its face to the future.

Those Who Ate BUTTER NUT BREAD TO-DAY Had a Share the Best of the Others.

State has been divided into districts, each of which is in charge of an inspector. These men, with the co-operation in every case of the local physicians, go among the people, diagnose cases and see that the patients receive proper treatment. All school children are to be examined, and, when the presence of the disease is indicated, they are sent to their physicians. Everywhere the doctrine of sanitation will be preached.

The treatment is simple and inexpensive. It may be administered by any physician at small cost. There is no excuse for the existence of hookworm once its presence is discovered.

Prevention depends entirely upon proper sanitation. This can and will be enforced by the Health Department so far as practicable. Education alone will not be depended upon in this instance, for it is felt that a generation of time ought not to be spent, when a few years should be sufficient. Those who will not clean up will be made to do so.

The department has made up its mind that hookworm must go.

FAY AND HARRIS REACH ATLANTA

Famous Prisoners Are Now in Custody of Uncle Sam at Penitentiary.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Atlanta, Ga., April 23.—Charged with robbing the post-office safe at Richmond or $85,000 in postage stamps and currency, and convicted of the offense, Fred Cunningham, alias Eddie Fay, and Frank Chester, alias "Little Dick" Harris, reached Atlanta to-day over the Seaboard, and were immediately placed in a taxicab and hurried to the Federal prison to spend the next ten years. Owing to the reputation made by Fay in escaping from prisons, he will be put under the very closest watch while in the Atlanta prison. Every precaution will be taken to guard against his escape, which under the system in vogue here, is practically impossible.

Both prisoners start out in class I; that is, they are given all the privileges the prison affords, such as writing letters, receiving visitors at station times and reading books.

Both men spent the first night in a special ward, waiting for to-morrow before being assigned cells of their own. Both have been photographed, measured carefully, inspected and given a number. The work they will do has not yet been determined upon.

tainment for wealth.

"Every man," said the lumber king, "should marry young, mind his own business and save his money. He'll get along all right then."

"Live in your means if you have got to eat pork and beans," continued he. "If a young man is all right he gets along; if not, he can't. There is plenty to do for all of them."

"A good wife is the best asset in the world."

"What effect has the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy on your interests?" was asked.

"Pinchot is all right, but he talks too much," was the reply. "Ballinger is all right, too. He knows what he's about, and does not deserve the criticism he has been receiving. The idea that Ballinger has given assistance to the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate in its Alaskan coal land deals is too absurd to think about."
